[Numb. 877.]

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

From Monday February 25th, to Monday March 4th, 1751.

There having been so great a Demand for our Gazette of the 14*th of May* 1750, (wherein was published, by Order of the Commons House of Assembly, the Negro Cæsar's Cure for Poison) that none were left in a short Time, 'tis hoped the Re-publication of that Cure, may not be unacceptable at this Time.

The Negro CÆSAR's Cure for Poison.

TAKE the roots of Plantane and wild Hoar-hound, fresh or dried, three ounces, boil them together in two quarts of water to one quart, and strain it; of this decoction let the patient take one third part three mornings fasting successively, from which if he finds any relief, it must be continued, 'till he is perfectly recovered: On the contrary, if he finds no alteration after the third dose, it is a sign that the patient has either not been poisoned at all, or that it has been with such poison as Cæsar's antidotes will not remedy, so may leave off the decoction.

DURING the cure, the patient must live on spare diet, and abstain from eating mutton, pork, butter, or any other fat or oily food.

N. B. The Plantane or Hoar-hound, will either of them cure alone, but they are most efficacious together.

IN summer, you may take one handful of the roots and branches of each, in place of three ounces of the roots of each.

For DRINK, during the CURE, let them take the following.

TAKE of the roots of Golden-rod, six ounces, or in summer two large handfuls of the roots and branches together, and boil them in two quarts of water to one quart, (to which also may be added a little Hoar-hound and Sassafras) to this decoction, after it is strain'd, add a glass of rum or brandy, and sweeten it with sugar, for ordinary drink.

Sometimes an inward FEVER attends such as are poisoned, for which he orders the following.

TAKE a pint of Wood ashes and three pints of water, stir and mix them well together, let them stand all night, and strain or decant the lye off in the morning, of which ten ounces may be taken six mornings following, warm'd or cold, according to the weather.

THESE medicines have no sensible operation, though sometimes they work in the bowels, and give a gentle stool.

The symptoms attending such as are poisoned, are as follows.

A PAIN of the breast, difficulty of breathing, a load at the pit of the stomach, an irregular pulse, burning and violent pains of the viscera above and below the navel, very restless at night, sometimes wandering pains over the whole body, a reaching and inclination to vomit, profuse sweats (which prove always serviceable) slimy stools both when costive and loose, the face of a pale and yellow colour, sometimes a pain and inflammation of the throat, the appetite is generally weak, and some cannot eat any; those who have been long poisoned, are generally very feeble, and weak in their limbs, sometimes spit a great deal, the whole skin peels, and likewise the hair falls off.

CÆSAR's cure for the bite of a Rattle-snake.

TAKE of the roots of Plantane or Hoar-hound, (in summer roots and branches together) a sufficient quantity, bruise them in a mortar, and squeeze out the juice, of which give, as soon as possible, one large spoonful; if he is swell'd you must force it down his throat: This generally will cure; but if the patient finds no relief in an hour after, you may give another spoonful, which never fails.

IF the roots are dried, they must be moistened with a little water.

TO the wound may be applied, a leaf of good tobacco moisten'd with rum.

Mr. Timothy,

The following SOLILOQUY, being the Performance of a Lady in this Province, I am persuaded, that, by giving it a Place in your Gazette, you will afford some Pleasure to your Readers, as it will also shew that the Muses have had their Seat in Carolina as well as in other Parts remote from us.

I am, Yours, &c. S. B.

The Maid's SOLILOQUY.

IT must be so—Milton, thou reas'nest well,
Else why this pleasing Hope, this fond Desire,
This longing after something unpossess'd?
Or whence this secret Dread and inward Horror
Of dying unespous'd? Why shrinks the Soul
Back on itself, and startles at the Thought.
'Tis Instinct! faithful Instinct stirs within us,
'Tis Nature's self that points out an Alliance,
And intimates an Husband to the Sex.
Marriage! thou pleasing and yet anxious Thought!
Thro' what variety of Hopes and Fears,
Thro' what new Scenes, and Changes, must we pass:
Th' important State in Prospect lies before me,
But Shadows, Clouds and Darkness, rest upon it.
Here will I hold—if Nature prompts the Wish,
(And that she does is plain, from all her Works)
Our Duty and our Interest, bid indulge it;
For the great End of Nature's Law, is Bliss.
But yet—in Wedlock—Women must obey:
I'm weary of these Doubts—the Priest must end them.
Thus, rashly do I venture Loss and Gain,
Bondage and Pleasure, meet my Thoughts at once;
I wed —— my Liberty is gone for ever:
If happy—then I'm still secure in Life.
Love, will then recompence my Loss of Freedom;
And when my Charms shall fade away, my Eyes
Themselves grow dim, my Stature bend with Years,
Then virtuous Friendship, shall succeed to Love;
Then pleas'd, I'll scorn Infirmities, and Death,
Renew'd Immortal, in a filial Race.
